Vienna (11/09/2017), Interchange Austria is pleased to announce that it has recently opened a new foreign exchange office in Salzburg, one of the most popular tourist destinations in Austria.

Interchange provides foreign currency exchange as well as tax refunds for travellers coming from non-EU countries. Its new branch will enable it to offer its services to the many international customers that visit Salzburg from all over the world. Non-EU customers, in particular, will be able to get an immediate tax refund in the currency of their choice as well as being able to change money directly in the city.

Daniel Pajak, Managing Director of Interchange in Austria, commented:

„By enlarging our network of branches, we are strengthening our position in Austria as one of the market leaders in the provision of banking services for travellers. By offering our services in Salzburg, one of Austria’s most beautiful and internationally best-known destinations, we are making the logical step of adding to our existing successful operations in Vienna Airport, Vienna city centre and at the McArthurGlen Outlet in Parndorf.”
